Overview

+ Reminders & Summary

- + Employees planning on taking a LOA must notify their HRBP and benefits team as soon as possible and contact NY Life.
- + Benefits coordinates the leave and payroll to place employee on Leave to ensure they are paid accordingly.
- + When an employee is out on Sick Leave longer than 3 business days, HR and benefits should be involved to monitor the potential need for a leave of absence and has the option to request documentation regarding the reason for extended sick leave.
 - + Once an employee's sick time extends beyond 5 business days, the employee should be contacted and encouraged to contact NY Life regarding a leave of absence claim.
- + If an employee fails to return to work after Leave period, there is a review process done by Benefits and NY Life to determine whether an employee has "abandoned" their job. If so, HR processes departure in Workday.

LOA Type

+ Family Medical Leave

Endeavor offers a leave of absence to eligible employees that may need to take time away for work for any below reason. Reason to use FMLA (full definitions can be found in the Endeavor Handbook):

- + Birth or adoption of employee's child
- + To care for an ill family member
- + Serious health condition
- + Qualifying emergency military leave
- + To care for a family member that is active military or a veteran who is ill

Employees are required to provide 30 days notices or as much notice as possible when 30 days is not practicable. Endeavor's FMLA administration is outsourced to NY Life. HR will partner with NY Life to determine and inform the employee of eligibility and provide the employee's rights and responsibilities if approved. Employees may use vacation or sick time while on FMLA to continue pay during leave. If sick leave is extended, FLMA may be considered.
